Send Hurry Call for Ryan.

It had been the purpose of the subcommittee to question the Secretary as ries" are to be taxed 20 per cent, on to the number of combat planes now in France, ready for transportation thither, rendy for transportation to the ports and in the course of manufacture. To the series of questions the Secretary replied with answers which illuminated the subject only with the glare of ire in the faces of his examiners.

It was remarked by the Senators after the Secretary had stepped smiling from the committee room that the examina-tion had proved to them the most unsatisfactory and valueless in the production of concrete facts that it had ever been their fortune to conduct.

Mr. Baker went back to the War Department seemingly well satisfied with his evidence, while the Senators, who un-til to-day had planned to conclude their investigation with the appearance o Secretary Baker, sent out a hurry call for John D. Ryan, Director of Aircraft Production, and determined to postpone til the beginning of next week, after Mr. final consideration of their report War left behind.
